Inside Track with Steve Sawyer

We are now at the mid-point of the current five-year term of the Manor Royal BID, that ends in 2028 when we once again have to go to ballot (a vote by businesses) to carry on.

Until then there is much to do.

Since the last issue of Manor Royal News we have launched the ground-breaking renewable energy project to install free solar panels on Manor Royal roofs and opened the first-ever superhub bus stop and park area.

This follows hot on the heels of the Hazelwick Flyover mural installation and the widening of the western section of Manor Royal road to introduce a full-length dedicated bus lane and resurfacing work.

Expect more investment and more new infrastructure to follow shortly as we have secured planning permission, and funding from the Crawley Towns Fund, to deliver improvements to Crawter's Brook People's Park and a new linear park along Woolborough Lane, and have submitted plans for a new park area at County Oak and improvements to the remaining entry point to Manor Royal near the Beehive.

All this will be topped off by an interpretive, wellbeing trail linking all these spaces together and guiding staff on timed walks around the business district with links to information about the history of the site and information about the various artworks springing up.

We are also excited about the new Green Infrastructure and Biodiversity Plan to support our net zero ambitions that we hope to launch at this year's Manor Royal Matters event on 04 November, that will also have a 75th anniversary theme running through it.

We have much to celebrate on Manor Royal and I hope you will join us at one of our upcoming events to do just that.

FREE SOLAR PANELS - WHO'S FIRST?

Following the signing of a landmark agreement between Crawley Borough Council and the Manor Royal BID, ReEnergise Manor Royal (REMR) has secured nearly £1million from the Government's Towns Fund to supercharge an ambitious solar energy project.

This will facilitate the purchase and installation of solar panels for Manor Royal companies across the business district at no cost to the companies.

As well as avoiding any capital outlay, by working through REMR companies will benefit from a hassle-free maintenance and operation, low-cost renewable energy and improved energy security.

They will also become part of a community with other like-minded Manor Royal business owners who are motivated to reduce their carbon footprint, save costs and demonstrate their commitment to social value.

The REMR project has been developed in close partnership with local businesses following a successful engagement phase led by the Manor Royal BID with the support of the vastly experienced energy cooperative BHESCo (Brighton & Hove Energy Services Co-op), who have been appointed to act as the project's delivery partner to make sure things run smoothly for the companies that get involved.

The initial round of funding, however, will only support between five and six solar array installations so interested companies are being encouraged to declare their interest quickly as the REMR project team - made up of Manor

Royal representatives - are operating on a first come, first served basis.

Don't delay. If you want free solar panels and cheaper, cleaner energy get in touch now.

KNOW YOUR NEIGHBOUR

The Manor Royal Business Improvement District (BID) proudly celebrated the continued success of its flagship event, Know Your Neighbour, held on 3 June 2025 at The Hawth, Crawley.

Bringing together a vibrant crosssection of businesses from across the Manor Royal Business District, the event once again proved a powerful platform for networking, collaboration, and showcasing the remarkable diversity of businesses that call Manor Royal home.

The event saw record attendance from businesses spanning a wide range of sectors, with exhibitors and delegates taking full advantage of the opportunity to connect with each other, share insights, and explore new commercial partnerships with their neighbours.

The annual event has always been exclusive to Manor Royal businesses to exhibit and attend, but this year, a section of the day was open to anyone outside Manor Royal to come and see the incredible range of companies that are based on the Business District.

With 100 Manor Royal companies exhibiting inside and outside The Hawth, engaging breakout sessions, and prizes for 'Business Bingo' and 'Best Stand', the event reinforced the shared value of community and mutual support among Manor Royal businesses.

Steve Sawyer, Executive Director of Manor Royal BID, reflected on the success of the event:

"Know Your Neighbour continues to highlight what makes Manor Royal such a special place to do business

It's not just about proximity — it's about people, potential, and pride in the place we work. The energy this year was inspiring, and it's always a privilege to bring so many talented individuals together under one roof."

The Know Your Neighbour event is a core part of the BID's wider mission to build a connected and thriving business community, making Manor Royal the UK's most dynamic, innovative and collaborative Business Districts.

SUPERHUB - MORE THAN A BUS STOP

In August, representatives from Manor Royal BID were joined by an array of partners to celebrate the opening of the first ever

"superhub" bus stop and surrounding micropark at Manor Royal Central.

More than just a bus shelter, the superhub will help transform the way we think about going to catch a bus and is designed to be something eye-catching and distinctive as well as a place of shelter and comfort while waiting for the bus.

The first of its kind anywhere, the new style shelter is a pilot to test the idea that was first conceived in the Manor Royal BID's Project Pack as far back as 2017.

The project was led by the Manor Royal BID with the support of both West Sussex County Council and Crawley Borough Council, and benefits from grant funding provided by the Crawley Growth Programme and the Crawley Town's Fund.

The concept for the site, including the surrounding park area, was developed by Allen Scott Landscape Architects while the shelter itself was designed by Trueform in collaboration with Jedco Product Design. The main contractor for the project was Edburton while project management and engineering support was provided by Watermans.

The site also benefits from a striking piece of public art elevated on tripod legs designed by local artist Karl Singporewala, who grew up in Crawley. Called "Keki's Fusion" the bespoke piece is inspired by the Rediffusion logo where Karl's dad, Keki, once worked. The sculpture was fabricated and installed by Cake Industries.

Following the recent Hazelwick Flyover Mural, this is one of a number of projects being developed and delivered by the Manor Royal BID that has attracted the support of Crawley Borough Council and Crawley Town Deal funding.

Future projects include the enhancement of Crawter's Brook People's Park, Woolborough Lane Linear park, County Oak Corner and improvements to the northern entry point to Manor Royal at James Watt Way and an area-wide wellbeing trail.

CRAWTER'S BROOK AWARDED GREEN FLAG STATUS

Crawley Borough Council and Manor Royal BID are proud to announce that Crawter's Brook has been awarded the prestigious Green Flag status for the very first time.

Crawter's Brook joins an impressive list of Crawley's award-winning parks with Tilgate Park, Goffs Park, Memorial Gardens, Worth Park and Ifield Mill Pond all keeping their Green Flag awards for 2025.

This recognition for Crawter's Brook marks a significant milestone in the park's transformation from a once-overlooked patch of land into a vibrant, welcoming green space at the heart of the Manor Royal Business District.

Once a neglected area, Crawter's Brook has been revitalised into a retreat for local workers and a thriving habitat for wildlife. Manor Royal BID secured funding and worked with architects, Allen Scott, to create the 'People's Park' – a public park comprising attractive seated areas, public art and landscaped areas, shared cycle and footpaths, information boards and boardwalks. The park now offers a tranquil space for relaxation and connection with nature. Its role as a biodiversity corridor has also made it an important environmental asset for the town.

Councillor Michael Jones, Leader, Crawley Borough Council said:

"The awarding of Green Flag status to Crawter's Brook is a remarkable milestone for Crawley. This recognition of our fabulous parks here in Crawley, I believe a record number for our borough this year, underscores our commitment to maintaining high-quality green spaces that benefit both our residents and the local ecosystem."

Steve Sawyer, Executive Director, Manor Royal BID said:

"The creation of Crawter's Brook
People's Park was one of the Manor Royal BID's first projects, taking a previously neglected unloved area and turning it into a vibrant and wellmaintained public space. This award is deserved recognition of both the quality of the space and the way it is managed to successfully balance the needs of both people and nature."

SECAMB TEAM THANKED BY CARDIAC ARREST SURVIVOR

A Crawley man who is celebrating a 'second chance at life' has thanked his lifesavers for that he has been able to meet his first grandchild and see two of his children get engaged.

Andrew Bradnam and his family met some of his lifesavers recently at South East Coast Ambulance Service's (SECAmb's) Gatwick Make Ready Centre in Manor Royal at a heartfelt reunion.

With only around one in 10 people surviving out-of-hospital cardiac arrests across the UK, Andrew knows just how lucky he is to be alive.

Andrew was at home on 21 February 2024 when he started experiencing weakness in his left arm and pain in his upper back.

Trainee Associate Ambulance Practitioner (TAAP), Stephanie Janczenia and former colleague, Leo Potenza, arrived first on scene, however Andrew's symptoms quickly deteriorated, and he went into cardiac arrest.

The pair jumped into action, delivering crucial CPR and a life-saving shock with a defibrillator as Resource Dispatcher, Helen Robinson, coordinated further support. Urgent Care Practitioner, George Murray and Paramedics, Jasmine White and Ross Stewart arrived on scene a few minutes later to assist.

Andrew was taken to Royal Sussex County Hospital where he spent a further two weeks recovering and underwent major heart surgery having found out that a heart attack was the cause of his cardiac arrest.

Jasmine said: "It was wonderful to meet Andrew and his family and hear about the exciting things they are looking forward to this year. It's a special reminder of what we do and the difference we make."

Andrew said: "I'm so thankful to everyone that saved me that day. Thanks to them, I've been able to see two of my children get engaged and I got to meet my first grandchild. Surviving a cardiac arrest was really eye-opening and I'm so grateful to still be here. I've been prioritising my health since and am the healthiest I've been in a while. I can't thank the team enough that have given me a second chance at life."

Manor Royal Footballers Score for Charity

Manor Royal BID's annual 6-a-Side Football Tournament saw teams from across the business district come together in support of two charities in June.

Last year's runners-up SOS Systems took the title with a well-placed header to win 1-Nil against Dnata in the final.

This year's tournament brought together 15 teams, including AAR, AIM, Avionics Support, Viridien, Frontier Pitts Ltd, Saunders Personal Training, Johnsons, Acron Aviation, and the Electric Centre.

The competition has been running since 2012 and this year raised almost £800 for local children's charity, Ten Little Toes, and The Ben Kinsella Trust.

The Manor Royal BID thanked the companies that took part and showed their appreciation for the referees and to Dave Downey of Everyone Active for their support.

Steve Sawyer, Executive Director of Manor Royal BID, commented:

"While there's always a healthy sense of competition, we never lose sight of what this tournament is really about – having fun, building connections and raising much needed funds for good causes. Thanks to everyone that took part."

Dave Downey - Activity and Wellbeing Manager for Everyone Active's Crawley contract, said: "This is the 11th workplace football tournament I have organised in partnership with the Manor Royal BID and, as ever, it was great to see so many people come together and enjoy themselves. Investing in workplace health and wellbeing through physical activity is so important and it's great to be part of something that also helps to raise money for worthy causes."

Captain of the winning team, Gary Tomlinson of SOS Systems, said:

"The Manor Royal Charity Football Tournament was a fantastic opportunity to bring local businesses together in the spirit of teamwork and community. Events like this not only help strengthen relationships across the Manor Royal Business District but also raise vital funds for brilliant charities. We're especially proud that SOS Systems came away with the trophy!"

CELEBRATING 10 YEARS: IT DOCUMENT SOLUTIONS

This year marks a major milestone for IT Document Solutions (ITDS) as it celebrates 10 years in business and a decade of consistent growth and resilience.

But to truly understand the story of ITDS, you have to start with its founder and CEO, lermaine Weeden.

From McDonald's to Managing Director

Jermaine left school with few qualifications, but from an early age, he had one thing in abundance: drive. His first role was as a trainee at McDonald's, where he quickly rose to managerial level. It was there he discovered his knack for leadership and his hunger for progress.

But Jermaine's true passion lay in sales. He worked in many employed and self-employed roles, selling vacuum cleaners, double glazing, cars and advertising space, before he moved into the managed print industry selling Fax machines and Copiers.

Jermaine rapidly built a reputation as a top-performing sales professional, consistently exceeding targets, winning awards and incentives, and building strong client relationships.

After working for several global manufacturers and value-added multi-brand resellers Jermaine took a break from the industry and moved to HK to play rugby and sell financial services, but sadly this was short lived. However, the additional training and the hard lessons learned, meant he returned a better version of himself. He worked for Altodigital for 5 years and completed what he calls his apprenticeship.

In 2014, Jermaine took the leap and founded IT Document Solutions along with his then business partner Mark Dansie, bringing with them Jermaine's bold vision to help businesses work smarter through tailored, future-ready tech solutions. The idea was to bridge the gap from this old school industry and add value through digital document solutions i.e. Digital Transformation.

Beyond business, Jermaine has always stayed rooted in community values. His early career at McDonald's forged strong local connections, and today, thanks in part to his influence, McDonald's has been a joint proud sponsor of Crawley Rugby Club, helping support grassroots sport and young talent in the area.

XPRESS GROUP - SUPPORTING MANOR ROYAL EVENTS

If you had the pleasure visiting Manor Royal's Know Your Neighbour (and beyond), event at the Hawth earlier in the summer, you'll have been presented with a well-executed event and a strongly branded environment. TOKYO ELECTRON TEAM RAISES FUNDS FOR SUSSEX CHARITY

Last September, Yuko Casey, Joanna Fiveash, and a team of ten colleagues from Tokyo Electron Europe's Manor Royal office took part in the Barns Green 10k to raise money for Outreach 3 Way, a Crawley-based charity supporting adults with learning disabilities and autism across East and West Sussex.

Thanks to generous donations from friends, family, and colleagues, the team raised funds to help the charity purchase a much-desired portable interactive projector with music. The equipment arrived at the charity in the Spring this year and is already enhancing the lives of the people Outreach 3 Way supports by creating engaging, multi-sensory experiences.

Yuko and Joanna recently visited the charity's centre in Ifield to see the projector in action. As soon as the music began and images appeared, service users began responding enthusiastically, demonstrating the power of sensory play to connect and engage.

The interactive projector offers a variety of programs, including moving images, piano keyboards, car racing games, and snap cards. Its versatility allows projections on most flat surfaces, whether the floor, a table, or even a wheelchair tray, making it accessible to all service users. This technology encourages engagement, sensory exploration, and skill development in a fun, immersive

Yuko said: "Thank you to everyone who supported us in the fundraising. It was great to see it go to such a worthwhile cause, and the charity was very appreciative."

Outreach 3 Way is part of the Dimensions Group, one of the UK's leading not-for-profit organisations supporting people with learning disabilities, autism, and complex needs. The charity works to ensure individuals can live fulfilling lives with choice, independence, and opportunities to thrive.

Compliance Is No Longer Optional -By Ross Gardener, Director, Knights Estate Agents Knights

The Renters Rights Bill doesn't just change how you manage tenancies; it introduces a new standard of public accountability, visibility, and enforcement across the private rental sector.

One of the most immediate changes is that all private landlords will be required to join a redress scheme, whether or not they use a letting agent. This gives tenants a direct route to raise complaints about repairs, mismanagement, or conduct and it gives regulators the power to impose steep fines, rent repayment orders, or even prosecution for non-compliance.

Alongside this, a national landlord register, and central property portal will be launched. Landlords will need to upload and maintain a full suite of compliance documentation for each property, EPC ratings, gas and electrical safety certificates, redress scheme membership, and more. These records will be accessible to local councils and tenants alike, providing a clear line of sight into each landlord's performance and obligations.

Failure to register or keep your records updated could lead to significant enforcement action, including financial penalties and restrictions on your ability to let.

In addition, expect greater alignment with the Decent Homes Standard. Councils will have increased powers to issue improvement notices, enforce urgent repairs, and apply banning orders to landlords who fall short if the standards.

Meeting these new expectations means having active oversight, clear documentation, and a structured approach to property management. Regular inspections, timely repairs, and detailed record-keeping will all play a part in staying compliant and safeguarding cashflow.

As Qualified Lettings Specialists, our fully managed service takes care of it all. We handle compliance end-toend: from ongoing maintenance and legal certifications to communication, dispute resolution, and representation if issues arise.

Whether you self-manage or already work with an agent, now is the time to ensure your strategy is robust, responsive, and fully compliant.

Talk to Ross or Mark to find out how we can support you through the transition.

CRAWLEY SECURES FUTUREPROOF FULL FIBRE CONNECTIVITY WITH ITS AND TOWNS FUND INVESTMENT

ITS has been awarded the contract to build and operate a brand new 32km full fibre network across Crawley, following a competitive tender by Crawley Borough Council. Funded by the Towns Fund and backed by additional private investment from ITS, the project will extend full fibre access to over 1,500 businesses, including more than 700 within Manor Royal Business District - one of the largest and most diverse business hubs in the UK.

Despite Crawley's strong economic performance, parts of the town have historically lacked access to modern digital infrastructure. This new network will directly address this, as well as findings from the 2022 Manor Royal BID Survey, which identified poor broadband speeds as the most significant issue facing local businesses.

Once built, businesses will be able to choose from a wide range of gigabitcapable full fibre services through ITS's service provider partners. The project will help deliver on the Towns Fund's aims to boost economic growth through regeneration, improved transport, faster digital connectivity, and the development of local skills and culture.

Through ITS's social value programme, the project will support existing local sustainability initiatives and introduce new activities aimed at bridging the digital divide. This includes digital skills training, community engagement, and support for underserved groups to ensure that the benefits of full fibre connectivity are felt across the town.

Michael Jones, Leader of Crawley Borough Council, said:

"This project is in direct response to what our business community told us they needed. It's a great example of how public and private sector expertise and investment can come together to deliver real, lasting impact.

"Crawley's proximity to Gatwick Airport and its excellent transport links make it attractive to businesses locating to the area. The new network will help to ensure Crawley continues to attract both established industries and emerging sectors."

Steve Sawyer, Executive Director, Manor Royal BID, said:

"Manor Royal is one of the UK's largest business parks, home to more than 700 businesses, with around 30,000 people working here. When the BID was first created in 2013, the park was struggling, and broadband was one of the biggest issues holding us back. Getting superfast connectivity made a huge difference, but companies are now demanding more.

"We are excited by this announcement and the transformative investment being made in this new full fibre network. It will give every business access to high-quality, futureproof connectivity at an affordable price. It won't just be the preserve of those who can afford to buy bespoke solutions - it will deliver the speeds and reliability that a modern business park like Manor Royal needs to thrive."

Daren Baythorpe, CEO of ITS, said:

"Crawley is a thriving hub of enterprise and innovation, and we're proud to be the trusted partner delivering the next-generation digital infrastructure it needs to stay ahead. This full fibre rollout will provide future-proof connectivity for businesses of all sizes, driving sustainable growth and long-term competitiveness across the region.

"But it's not just about technology - it's also about people. Our social value programme ensures that the benefits of this investment extend beyond business, empowering local communities and helping more people access the opportunities of an increasingly digital world."
